Dear Mr. [REDACTED]

The Central Intelligence Agency has asked our assistance in its effort to establish contact with you. As you know, we are prevented by law from furnishing them the information they need to reach you directly.

The CIA is interested first in establishing whether you are, in fact, the person they seek. If you are, they would like to request your assistance in identifying and locating another person believed to have been known to you many years ago.

The CIA requests that you be asked to telephone collect [REDACTED] and ask to speak to [REDACTED] or [REDACTED]. If you prefer, you may address a letter to either at the Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20505.

Sincerely,
